DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The amendment to the specification spanning pages 20-21 is accepted.

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-17 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
3. The prior art relied upon in the first office action rejection by Yanase (6,235,979) and Taki et al. (5,665,927) no longer teach all the claimed elements of the independent claims 1, 4, 8, 10, 11, 12, 15, and 16, and no other prior art references could be found that teach said claimed elements, therefore the independent claims and their dependent claims are considered allowable.
4. In terms of claims 1, 4, and 8, the applicant is correct in pointing out that even though Yanase teaches the allocation of musical notes or marks to a plurality of staves, that Yanase fails to teach the musical notes or marks spanning across said plurality of staves. Yanase, along with the US patents to Funaki (US 2004/0112201 and US 2003/0167903), Matsumoto (US 2003/0005814 and US 2001/0023633), Uehara (US 2001/0054347), Yamauchi (6,313,387), Jung et al. (US 2004/0182229), Tanaka (US

2003/0177887), and Shibukawa (US 2002/0134216) teach multiple displayed staves or tiers, of the same performance, either as the same or different clefs, but the displayed score stays confined to the individual staves and does not span across or between the staves. Some of the above prior art, such as Matsumoto, teaches the shifting between multiple display portions but again not of the spanning of the musical score across multiple staves. Therefore, independent claims 1, 4, and 8, and their dependent claims, are deemed allowable.

5. In terms of claims 10, 11, 12, 15, and 16, Yanase and Taki et al. no longer teach the claimed elements. Neither Yanase nor Taki et al. teach the varying of note position based on the designated data identifying a type of horizontal or vertical offset, and a parameter value representing the amount of offset as a timing value or as pitch related information, and no other prior art could be found that teach such elements. Therefore, independent claims 10-12, 15 and 16, and their dependent claims, are deemed allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
